

PROFILE

Dr.M.Ramalingam B.E., M.S., Ph.D.

Principal,
Jerusalem college of Engineering,
Narayanapuram,
Pallikaranai,
Chennai-100

Dr.M.Ramalingam has graduated from the College of Engineering, Guindy in Civil Engineering. He has obtained his Masters degree from I.I.T., Chennai and got his doctoral degree from the Anna University in Remote Sensing and GIS Applications.

He is currently working as Principal in Jerusalem College of Engineering Prior to joining JCE, he has worked as Professor & Director, Institute of Remote Sensing, Anna University. He has guided many M.S. (By Research) and PhD students. He is having more than 100 publications in National /International Journals and conferences of repute.

He has carried out around 50 major sponsored and R & D projects and more than 200 consultancy projects which are relevant to the societal applications. He has completed the major project on identification of groundwater recharge areas using Remote Sensing and GIS for the entire state of Tamil Nadu for solving the drinking water problem of the state. He has also carried out many projects using Remote Sensing and GIS for the benefit of the state.

He is also members in the editorial committee of various journals and expert members in the various committee constituted by both the Government of Tamil Nadu and Government of India. He is also member in the various professional bodies.

He has visited many countries for advanced training and collaborative Research in Germany, France, UK, Netherland, Norway, Canada and USA etc.