Code Of Conduct for ISTE Members

- Members should always preserve the dignity and interest of the profession and of the Society by maintaining a high standard of professional and personal conduct.
- They should work in the best interest of the Society.
- They should neither engage in personal advertisement, nor canvas for an appointment, nor take any action which is detrimental to sister Institutions.
- They should always endeavour to establish and maintain the best possible conditions of service for their colleagues and other staff.
- When a member represents the Society, he should as far as possible state the policy of the Society. If he has any disagreement with a policy of the Society, he may so inform the Society. The Executive Council will then decide the further course of action (including the question of the Society's representation) that is to be taken.
- Where, having regard to this Code of Conduct a member wishes to make a complaint against another Member of the Society, he should do so in writing to the Executive Council. If the Executive Council is of the opinion that prima-facie case of infringement of the Code of Conduct has been established, it will appoint a committee for investigation. Based on the report of the Committee, the Executive Council will take a final decision on the matter.

Department Of Information Technology

The Institution Of Engineers (India)-Student Chapter IT

- o Institute of Engineers (IE) student chapter plays a vital role in enabling the students to have activities of their own for improving technical and soft skills.
- o The events like presentations, quizzes, group discussions, and talk on recent technologies and tools are regularly (weekly) held.
- o The activities were planned in such a way that all students actively participate at least once in a semester.
- o These activities help to prepare and mould the students to face the interviews, develop leadership capabilities, and inculcate their soft skills.
